HOUSTON, January 25, 2006 – Kodiak Thermal Technologies, Inc. announced today that they have signed a five-year distributor agreement with Kern Frio, S.A. of Barcelona, Spain for the distribution of Kodiak products in the European Union.

Kodiak (www.GoKodiak.com) and Kern Frio (www.KernFrio.com) have had a long relationship of working together in the European marketplace. In December, Donald Pagel, Kodiak CEO and Win Eastman, Kodiak CTO attended the International Contract Pharmaceutical Convention in Madrid, Spain with Joan Orriols, General Manager of Kern Frio. During this convention, Kodiak and Kern finalized their relationship.

Kern Frio is a wholly owned subsidiary of InduKern, S.A. InduKern also owns a pharmaceutical manufacturer by the name of Kern Pharma, S.A. in Spain. Kern Frio specializes in logistics and transportation of perishables and temperature sensitive goods through the use of proprietary and creative packaging solutions. Through its relationship with InduKern, Kern Frio has distribution centers all through the EU to better serve its customers.

Mr. Pagel stated, “Our relationship with Kern Frio is very positive for both of us. As the EU tightens its regulations around the cold chain, Kern and Kodiak are uniquely positioned for providing effective cold chain solutions for the European market.”

Kodiak Thermal Technologies, Inc. develops patented reusable cold chain shipping and storage containers for the transportation of temperature-critical products in the medical and industrial chemical industries.
